Supposed Incendiary Traced to Saloon, Where He Is Arrested.

HEARD MATCHES STRUCK

Then Mrs. Manley Got on the Trail of a Suspect and Caught Him.

But for the prompt action of Mrs. Catherine Manley, who lives on the top floor of the big tenement-house at No. 211 Adams street, Brooklyn, an incendiary who has made three persistent efforts to burn down the house would have been successful last night. Mrs. Manley was in the kitchen at 10

P. M. when she heard a noise outside her door as though some one was scratching matches. The fact that two some laborers if they had seen a man previous efforts had been made to burn come out of the house, and one of down the house made her suspicious, them said he had. The man, he said, and she listened intently for a moment. had gone into a saloon in Tillary street. She heard a man's footsteps going down the stairs and then more sounds, as though matches were being ignited.

She went down to the third floor and the laborer who had seen a man leave the house went the stairs and put out the fire Mrs. Manley, Polleeman Moran and the laborer who had seen a man leave the house went inside of a vacant apartment, the door to the Tillary street saloon, where the of which was open, saw a coil of cloth- laborer picked out a man who said he covered rubber tubing ablaze. Woman Who Left Husband for "202A" Accuses Him of Grand Larceny.

Walter W. Kenilworth, better known as "Zoza," the paimist and astrologist, has forsaken the woman who, she says. left her home and children for him and in six years squandered her income upon him.

"Zoza" is now under lock and key at Newport, where he has been plying his trade, declaring he was the palmist for the British royalty. The reason for his arrest is the alleged theft from Mrs. Kensiworth of $450 a month ago. She says he took the money from a bureau drawer and went to the fashionable watering place, where he established hirself in luxurious quarters. For in the revised ries sent to the ministers of the Methodist Church that much-discussed little word does not appear, and the word 'keep' has ben substituted for it.

Methodist women in good standing must therefore pledge themselves at the altar to love, honor and "keep" their husbands. Much discussion has been aroused over the change, as the women are at a loss to know in just what sense the word "keep" is used. They say that it is the husband's function to eye, the jaw and the story.

Two Thugs Attempted to Rob Summer

Complaints The Diseases of summer are numerous and can only be avoided by careful attention to diet, and the regular and judicious use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Hot, sultry days and breathless nights are now at hand, and thousands of men, women and children are suffering from the exhausting heat. Doctors everywhere ire alarmed at the unusually large number of deaths from diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, chills, typhoid and other levers, due to impure water, the consumpon of unripe fruit and vegetables, and ther causes. In the treatment and cure of these summer complaints it has been shown by medical science that the only sure remedy lies in the regular and judicious use of Duffy's sonous germs from the system, renews and builds up the wasted nerves and tissues, eurlahes the impoverished blood and gives new strength and vitality to every organ of the body.
